Use the brush provided, wet it with water, and paint over the pencil marks. Start with only a little water and see how it flows and blends the colors.

These green and gold colors are made by painting with water over the pencils.

The purple and blue squiggles are made by wetting the paper first and then drawing directly with the pencils.

Use the practice paper provided (blank on both sides) to try different styles. Then, when you're ready, use the watercolor postcards to create something exciting to send to a friend!
