

A Visit to the Brookline Village Library

The Brookline Village Library is at 361 Washington Street.

I can go there with a grownup.

A library has all kinds of books.

I can look at the books, and if I want to, I can take some home.

In the Children's room, there are lots of books that kids might like.

To get to the children's room, I can take the stairs or the elevator to the ground floor.

Or, I can come directly into the children's room through the children's garden entrance on the School St. side of the Library.

I can take books off the shelves to look at.

In the Children's room, kids and grownups might be talking or making noise.

If it is too noisy for me in the Children's room, I can take my book to a quieter part of the library to look at it.

If I'm finished with a book, my grown up can help me place it on one of the cleanup carts.

If I want to bring books home, my grownup and I will bring them to the Children's desk.

We might wait in a line for the librarian to be ready. When it is our turn, we can give the librarian our books. The librarian will check them out for us and give them right back.

There are also self-checkout machines near the circulation desk. My grownup can help me check out books there myself if I want!

Then we will take our books home. We will bring them back another day.

The library is a great place to visit!
